

KAISER AND ARCHDUKE

So grave was the situation at Lemberg before the Teutons drove the Russian forces before them that the German Kaiser deemed it advisable to appear on the scene of action in person. The Archduke Frederick of Austria was on a similar mission to urge the evacuation by the Russians the Kaiser and the archduke met to felicitate one another on the valor of their men.

SPELLING IS HARD TO LEARN

Tests in Public Schools Show Surprising Results, Says Federal Bureau of Education.

Washington.—Seven out of every 100 third grade public school children cannot spell "has," said a statement issued by the United States bureau of education. "This and other curious evidences of the special problems inherent in the teaching of spelling are brought out by Dr. Leonard P. Ayres of the Russell Sage foundation in a study just published." Doctor Ayres has had made a test from 1,000 words that constitute 90 per cent of the English language ordinarily used. He has found that "spelling ability" is easily and scientifically determined. For example, nine words of most frequent use, the "in," "no," "to," "now," "man," "ten," "bed" and "top," revealed that second grade pupils, on an average, spelled correctly 94 per cent of these words. At the other extreme of the scale the words "judgment," "recommend" and "allege" were found to be spelled correctly by just 50 per cent of eighth grade pupils.

CHILD ATTACKED BY ROOSTER

Cuts Her Face and Spurs Her, But Is Beaten Off by Neighbors of the Family.

New York.—Battered two years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Loughlin of Patchogue, L. I., was seated on the lawn of her home, when she was attacked by a big stray rooster, who wanted the cake the baby had in her chubby fist.

The child tried to beat the big bird off and alarmed the neighborhood with her screams. The rooster pecked at her face, causing dangerously close to her eyes, and then catching her hair in his beak he spurred her face, drawing blood. The rooster was killed by one of the neighbors and will make soup for the baby while she is convalescing.

And a number of other things that are not so good for the child. The rooster was killed by one of the neighbors and will make soup for the baby while she is convalescing.

CELEBRATES 115TH BIRTHDAY

Creek Beaver, Oklahoma Indian, Said to Be Oldest Man in the World, Gives Annual Feast.

Bunch, Okla.—Twenty beaves, 1 dogs and 150 chickens constituted 1 part the menu served to the guest attending the anniversary celebration of Creek Beaver, just concluded here.

The guest of honor this year was Baxter Choat of Bunch, and Black Fox of Webber Falls as usual acted in the capacity of official scribe. Creek Beaver hasn't had 115 picnics—one a year—by any means, but this year's feast was in commemoration of his birth 115 years ago, for Creek Beaver is the oldest Indian in Oklahoma. They have one up in Minnesota aged 112, but Creek Beaver goes him three years better.

The Creek Beaver picnic has been an annual affair for several years now, and Creek Beaver's guests are specially invited—several hundred annually—and the aged Indian pays the whole bill. His guests stay three days and eat barbecued beef, which Creek Beaver has pounded into hash—twenty whole beaves in one dish of hash—and there is the music of the tom-tom, two steps forward, and then all sink "way back" and eat again.

NEW DISEASE INVADERS U. S.

"Endarteritis Obliterans," Affecting the Feet, Brought to This Country From Russia.

New York.—A new foot disease known as endarteritis obliterans has made its appearance in New York and twenty-eight cases of it are under treatment in the hospital for deformities and joint diseases. The disease, physicians said, is frequently mistaken for rheumatism or gout. It is believed to have come from Russia, Poland and parts of Austria, virtually the only countries where it has become common.

The disease is characterized by cutting off of the blood supply to the fibrous exudate in the blood vessels of the hospital and cause. Injections of have been found to give relief.

FASHION'S PASSING SHOW

New York.—Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs has proved that there is something new in the way of charity entertainments, if not in anything else under the sun. She sprung one at Newport the other day that people will be talking about for some little time. It was a fashion show and theatrical entertainment all in one and it had for its setting the lovely French renaissance house of white marble that is Mrs. Oelrichs's summer home. More properly it had the rose gardens, the white esplanades and the background of the sea for its setting, since the entertainment took place out of doors. Twenty-two professional models, twelve dancers, several young women actresses and forty members of the smart set were engaged in the production of the fashion passing show.

The photograph shows Mrs. Howard Chushing as "a la mode."

Cement Fr. Boots.

It is now reported that a French firm is making an excellent cement from a by-product in the process of making beet sugar. The scum that forms when the beets are boiled, and which has heretofore been thrown away, consists largely of carbonate of lime and water, and from 70,000 tons of beet treated 4,000 tons of carbonate of lime are obtained; to this 1,100 tons of clay are added, the resulting product being 3,162 tons of excellent cement.

The scum is pumped into large tanks, where it is allowed to dry partially; finely-divided clay is then mixed with it; the mixture is thoroughly amalgamated by beaters for an hour and burned in a rotary. The result is the same way as Portland cement. The clinker is then ground and pulverized into cement.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

A REMARKABLE FAMILY OF ACTORS.

By A. W. MACY.

In 1758 John and an English theatrical manager, opposed a match between his daughter and a member of his company, not wishing her to marry an actor. He finally gave consent, however, consenting himself with the thought that the young man was not much of an actor. In this he was mistaken, for the young man, whose name was Roger Kambie, not only succeeded well in his profession, but became the founder of a family that is remarkable in the annals of the English stage.

Twelve children were born to the couple, of whom eight reached maturity; and every one of the eight made some effort on the stage. The eldest child, Sarah, became the renowned Mrs. Siddons. The eldest son, John Phillip, was probably the greatest actor of his day, and was known as "the great Kambie." The eleventh child, Charles, was a renowned comedian, while his daughter, Fanny Kambie, was probably the best known to the public of all the family. Her sister, Adelaide, attained considerable popularity as a public singer. Her son married the daughter of General Grant.
